

PEO STRI

Advance Planning Briefing to Industry

11-12 June 2003

Holiday Inn Select / UCF Area

Orlando, Florida

Administered and Coordinated by

With the Support of the Central Orlando Chapter

The Program Executive Office for Simulation, Training and Instrumentation (PEO STRI) will provide briefings and discussions to help industry better understand its long range development and acquisition vision, goals, and objectives. The Army Materiel Command Research, Development, and Engineering Command's (RDECOM) Simulation Technology Center will also be invited to share with industry its comparable science and technology goals and objectives. The program will cut across the live, virtual, constructive, and test instrumentation domains and is designed to inform the defense industry about future Army test, training, and simulation requirements and acquisition plans.
